FIFA Code of Ethics – E-learning tool to be published on FIFA.com

Dear Sir or Madam,

In order to help all persons bound by the FIFA Code of Ethics (2012) (“FCE”) understand and become familiar with its provisions, we will publish an E-learning tool on our homepage, www.fifa.com, on 18 February 2013.

The tool provides a two-part lesson: first, an overview of the scope of the FCE and the consequences of violating it and second, a review of the FCE’s Rules of Conduct.

As stated in Article 13, paragraph 1 of the FCE, “[p]ersons bound by this Code are expected to be aware of the importance of their duties and concomitant obligations and responsibilities.” Accordingly, please pass along this letter’s information about the E-learning tool to the relevant persons in your association.

We thank you for taking note of the above and for your cooperation in this regard.

Yours faithfully,

FIFA
