Amendments to the FIFA Players’ Agents Regulations

Article 2
(new text of paragraph 1)

Any natural person wishing to act as a players’ agent shall send a written application to the national association of the country of which he is a national or, if he lives elsewhere, to the national association of his country of domicile provided he has lived there constantly for at least two years.

Within the territory of the EU/EEA the applicant may turn to the national association of the country of his legal domicile, regardless of the duration of his residence.

Article 6
(new text of paragraph 1)

If a candidate scores the minimum amount of marks required to pass the examination (cf. Annexe A, l. par. 5), the national association shall request him to conclude professional liability insurance with an insurance company in his country.

Within the territory of the EU/EEA the candidate may conclude the requested insurance policy with an insurance company in any EU/EEA country.

He shall then send the insurance policy to the national association responsible.
