III. LAWS OF THE GAME AND DECISIONS OF THE BOARD

1. Law 1 – The Field of Play, Commercial Advertising

To discuss the amended version of the text proposal which was presented to the IFAB during its 125th AGM (submitted by FIFA)

<td>Commercial advertising shall be at least 1m (1yd) from the boundary lines of the field of play.</td>
<td>Advertising on the ground shall be at least 1m (1yd) from the boundary lines of the field of play.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Upright advertising shall be at least 1m (1yd) from the touch lines of the field of play.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Upright advertising shall be at least the same distance from the goal line as the depth of the goal net and at least 1m (1yd) either side of the goal.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>All upright advertising within 5 metres of the boundary lines must be parallel to them.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

REASON

Due to the increasing use of new advertising boards in an upright position very close to the boundaries of the field of play, according to the present text of the Laws it is necessary to define the location of these upright advertising boards, particularly behind the goal line because they may hide part of the net from a lateral view and can also be unsafe for players.
2. Notes on the Laws of the Game – Modifications

To discuss a new text proposal in order to clarify the text presented to the IFAB during its 125th AGM (submitted by The Football Association)

  i) such matches are solely for amateurs
  ii) such matches are not part of the most senior domestic competition of a member association
Further modifications are only allowed with the consent of the International Football Association Board |
REASON

We understand that the concern and reason why a previous proposal was not approved was because it was unclear that the proposal related to ‘recreational’ football only.

We are therefore submitting the above proposal which we hope makes it clear that the dispensation applies to ‘recreational’ football only.

The appropriate way of defining ‘recreational football’ is to use the word ‘amateur’ which is consistent with the definition of ‘amateur’ in the FIFA Regulations for the Status and Transfer of Players (and its commentary).

The definition in the FIFA Regulations is outlined in Article 2.2 (Page 10) which states ‘a Professional is a player who has a written contract with a club and is paid more than the expenses he effectively incurs in return for his footballing activity. All other players are considered as ‘Amateurs’.

The commentary in Para 2.1 of Article 2 (Page 12) states ‘an Amateur is a player who pursues sport just for fun or as a hobby, without any material gain, and who has never received any remuneration other than for the actual expenses incurred. Furthermore, he basically has no written contract with the club with which he is registered. The social aspect of participating in the group life of the club as well as his own health and fitness play a predominant role for an amateur player.’

Permitting modifications to the Laws regarding substitutions in amateur/’recreational’ football will help with the growth and retention of players within amateur/’recreational’ football. The change will allow member associations more flexibility to encourage people to take up the sport or to continue their participation in ‘recreational’ football without affecting the professional game in any way. We also suggest that such a modification not be permitted for a member association’s most senior domestic competitions (where such a competition is solely amateur) and the proposed amendment makes that clear.

3. Law 3 – The Numbers of Players

To discuss a new text proposal, following the decision of the IFAB to present it at the 126th AGM (submitted by FIFA, with amendments by the Scottish Football Association)

<table>

<th>PROPOSED TEXT</th>
</tr>

<tr>
<td>If a named substitute enters the field of play instead of a named player at the start of the match and the referee is not informed of this change:</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• the referee allows the named substitute to continue the match</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• no disciplinary sanction is taken against the named substitute</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• the number of permitted substitutes allowed by the offending team is not reduced</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• the referee reports the incident to the appropriate authorities.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

REASON

It is not rare that a substitution is made prior to the start of the match and after the referee has been informed of the names of the players and substitutes. This is normally due to an injury of a player during the warm-up. If the referee is informed of the substitution, this is permitted but it is necessary to clarify how to proceed if the referee is not informed of the change.
4. Law 3 – The Numbers of Players

Number of substitutions

An additional fourth substitution may be used during extra time.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

REASON
The FIFA Task Force Football 2014, the Medical Committee and the Football Committee support the proposal in order to maintain the technical level until the 120th minute and to protect the health of the players (as a means of preventing injuries).

5. Law 4 – The Players’ Equipment

To discuss a new text proposal for the use of tape on socks (submitted by The Football Association)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>PRESENT TEXT</th>
<th>PROPOSED TEXT</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>

<td>stockings - if tape or similar material is applied externally it must be the same colour as that part of the stocking it is applied to.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

REASON
An increasing number of players are using excessive amounts of tape externally on their socks. This can be a multitude of colours and, as can be seen from the following slide, it completely changes the look of the sock. This can cause confusion particularly for assistant referees who may need to look at the sock to determine who last played the ball before it has gone out of play.
6. Law 8 – The Start and Restart of Play

To discuss a new text proposal regarding the restart of play with a dropped ball
(submitted by The Football Association)

<td>Infringements and sanctions</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The ball is dropped again:</td>
<td>The ball is dropped again:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>...</td>
<td>...</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

REASON

There have been a number of occasions where goals have been scored from ‘uncontested’ dropped balls. This has put a great deal of pressure on the referee as he has to allow the goal to stand. We then have the unseemly situation where the opposition allow the team to score from the kick off without any players trying to stop them in order to rebalance the game.

7. Law 12 – Fouls and Misconduct

The use of the word “blatant”
(submitted by FIFA)

<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>handles the ball to prevent</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>an opponent gaining possession</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

REASON

It is more important to punish the consequence that the hand ball created rather than the fact that it was blatant. In fact, a hand ball could be inconspicuous but certainly very important. Furthermore, it is difficult to define what is meant by “blatantly” (p.113) and therefore to have a uniform interpretation, especially by referees from different countries or continents, with very different experiences. Deleting the word “blatantly”, and providing that if the hand ball prevented the opponent from gaining possession the player must be cautioned, makes the interpretation easier (p.117).
8. Law 12 – Fouls and Misconduct

Sending-off Offences
To discuss a new text proposal, following the recommendation by the FIFA Task Force Football 2014 and discussion at the IFAB ABM on 4th October 2011 (submitted by FIFA)

<table>

| A player, substitute or substituted player is sent off if he commits any of the following seven offences:
• (…)
• denying the opposing team a goal or a goal-scoring opportunity by deliberately handling the ball (this does not apply to a goalkeeper within his own penalty area).
• denying an obvious goal-scoring opportunity to an opponent moving towards the player’s goal by an offence punishable by a free kick or a penalty kick.
• (…) | A player, substitute or substituted player is sent off if he commits any of the following seven offences:
• (…)
• denying an obvious goal-scoring opportunity to an opponent moving towards the player’s goal by an offence punishable by a free kick outside the penalty area.

• denying an opponent an obvious goal-scoring opportunity by holding or an offence committed from behind inside his own penalty area when he has no opportunity to play the ball.
• (…) |

REASON

The triple punishment (penalty kick + red card + player suspension) for a player who denies an obvious goal-scoring opportunity to an opponent moving towards his goal by an offence punishable by a penalty is widely considered to be too severe.

A player would still receive a red card for denying an obvious goal-scoring opportunity outside of the penalty area as well as for denying an obvious goal-scoring opportunity by deliberately handling the ball, by holding or an offence committed from behind inside his own penalty area when he has no opportunity to play the ball.

A penalty kick and a yellow card would be enough sanction for other offences that deny an obvious goal-scoring opportunity committed by a defending player inside his own penalty area.

If the previous amendment is approved, the following proposal will be submitted by FIFA:
