

Please note the following important points regarding your visit to the stadium:

- Admission to the stadium is free of charge and based on a "first come first served" basis. To get a free ticket, visit fifa.com/tickets. (Please note: Tickets are no longer available for the first matchday on 21 November).
- A ticket will give you access to the official fan zone and to the stadium. If the stadium is full, fans can follow the match in the official fan zone next to the stadium on a large screen. Should seats become available in the stadium, new visitors who have registered for a ticket can go to the stands.
- The fan zone will open at 15:00. Admission to the stadium is open 15 minutes later.
- Once a spectator exits the fan zone and leaves the event area (inclusive to go to the parking), his/her ticket will no longer be valid to access the fan zone and the stadium. If this person wishes to re-enter, he/she will need to request a new ticket from the ticketing booth (upon availability).
- As long as there are free seats in the stadium, spectators can switch between the stadium and the fan zone as often as he/she likes. But if the stadium is full, it is not possible for the spectator to visit the stadium a second time on the same day. The ticket is therefore no longer valid as soon as the fan leaves the event area.
- Any drink that a spectator brings with them will be filled into cups by volunteers when entering the stadium. Elements for "tereré" are not allowed.
