FAQs

Is there a minimum age for Children? Can my child sit on my lap?
There is no minimum age for children. All children will require their own Ticket to access the stadium. However, please note that any Ticket Holder entering the Stadium accompanied by children or adolescents must obtain, carry and present at any time, upon request of the FIFA World Cup™ Authorities, the necessary authorisation from the minor’s parents or legal guardians, as established by the local regulations.

What if my ticket is lost, stolen or damaged?
TREAT YOUR TICKETS WITH CARE AND KEEP THEM IN A SAFE LOCATION AT ALL TIMES. Due to security concerns, duplicate Tickets will not be issued, because duplicate Tickets could result in more spectators entering the stadium than the stadium could safely accommodate. If you know that your Ticket has been lost or stolen, please report any theft to the police, and contact the FIFA Ticketing Centre immediately. FIFA Ticketing Centre can be contacted via the “contact us” link on www.FIFA.com.

Where else can I get Tickets? I have found a website offering Tickets for the 2014 FIFA World Cup Brazil™. How do I know it is a legitimate sales channel?
No other websites or parties have any rights to legitimately sell Tickets for the Competition. If you see any other website offering Tickets for the Competition you can be certain that this is not a legitimate sales channel. Please note that any Tickets obtained from any other source (for example, unauthorised intermediaries such as ticket brokers, internet auctions, internet ticket agents, internet or other unofficial ticket exchange platforms) will be automatically rendered void and invalid and do not entitle the Ticket Holder to enter the Stadium or to any refund or further compensation. Upon request from FIFA, Ticket Holders must explain how, from whom, for what consideration and from where they obtained their Tickets.

What happens in case of a misrepresentation of a disability?
The misrepresentation represents a material breach of the Ticket Sales Agreement and FIFA may cancel the Tickets. In such case the ticket Applicant will be required to pay either an amount of 30% or, in case the termination takes place within 48 hours prior to the Match, an amount of 100% of the aggregate price of the cancelled Tickets. FIFA reserves any additional rights, including criminal charges.
Can I sell my Tickets to somebody else?
In accordance with the Sales Regulations and General Terms and Conditions that each Ticket Applicant and Ticket holder agrees to in connection with the ticket application process, Ticket holders may not sell, offer for sale, resell, donate or otherwise transfer their Ticket in any way, without the specific prior written approval of FIFA. Transfer requests will be considered in accordance with the Ticket Transfer and Resale Policy defined by FIFA and available on www.FIFA.com once issued (prior to the Last Minute Sales Phase). The purposes for the rule limiting ticket transfers include: (a) event security, (b) consumer protection, and (c) economic fairness.

What methods of payment are accepted in the Last Minute Sales Phase?
In the Last Minute Sales Phase, it is possible to make payment for the purchase of the Tickets by means of the following payment methods:

- VISA payment card
- Other accepted payment cards
- Cash (over-the-counter transactions only)

During Last Minute Sales, payment via Boleto will not be offered as a payment method.

Who can collect the Tickets for me?
Either yourself or someone authorised by you. However, please note that in case you wish the Tickets to be collected by a third party, such third party must be duly authorised by you by means of a notarized and specific power of attorney and notarized copies of both yours and the third party's identification documents with embedded photographs.

Important Legal Information
All ticket sales are subject to the 2014 FIFA World Cup Brazil™ Ticket General Terms & Conditions and 2014 FIFA World Cup Brazil™ Ticket Sales Regulations. The official documents are available on www.FIFA.com and also within the FIFA Venue Ticketing Centres. Please contact the FIFA Ticketing Centre for further queries.

Finding Your Seat

The following information is to help guide your travel and access into each stadium. The route below is the typical journey a spectator must take on a match day in order to find their seat. The seat location data printed on the ticket will provide you with all the necessary information to locate your seat smoothly.

Mag & Bag

Each Stadium has Mag and Bag (M&B) areas, located on the outer perimeter. M&B are security and bag search areas through which all spectators must enter. For the majority of the stadia, M&B locations correspond to the Stadium Entrance.

Please Note: ENTRANCE data will be printed on tickets for certain stadia in place of LEVEL information.

Access to the Stadium areas will be restricted - Please keep your ticket with you at all times.
Once through the Gate, please continue to follow signage and proceed towards your allocated BLOCK, as indicated on your ticket.

Once you have reached the correct BLOCK, please follow the ROW letter and SEAT number signage to find the seat indicated on your ticket. Should you require any further assistance, Spectator Services Volunteers will be on hand to help.

Once through M&B, please follow the signage towards the GATE referenced on your ticket. Depending on the stadium, turnstiles will be encountered either at the GATE or before reaching it.

Once through the turnstile you will be unable to leave and re-enter the stadium – Your Ticket is only valid for one entry into the stadium!

Tickets - The Importance of Authenticity

All fans wishing to attend the FIFA World Cup™ should be aware of the importance of buying authentic tickets through authorised sources and buying FIFA-approved hospitality packages. FIFA therefore confirms that:

- http://www.fifa.com/ is the only online source for legitimate tickets sold outside of a package
- Within FIFA.com, in addition to Tickets available alone, it is also possible to purchase Match-ticket inclusive official hospitality packages. For further details please visit http://www.fifa.com/hospitality
- Unofficial ticket offerings are extremely likely to involve tickets which originate from unauthorised sources
- Tickets which originate from unauthorised sources are not valid and may result in the bearer not being permitted entry into 2014 FIFA World Cup Brazil™ matches

Supporting Authorised Distribution Channels

There are repercussions for fans as well as for tournament organisers when tickets and hospitality packages are purchased from unauthorised sources. FIFA encourages fans to exclusively use official ticketing and hospitality channels, and to make responsible and informed choices. Without the protections offered by authorised sources, fans run significant risks that the tickets they think they have purchased:

- Are purchased from an unauthorized reseller at a price far in excess of the official prices set by FIFA
- Do not exist;
- Are offered in the hope (but not the guarantee) that the purported seller will be able to provide tickets at a later date;
- Are counterfeit or fake;
• Are already identified by FIFA as being offered through unauthorised channels and have been rendered invalid;
• Do not permit entry to the stadium on match days;
• Are only permitted for use by specific individual/groups who are Brazilian Residents (i.e. Senior Citizens, Students etc)
• Are part of a group of tickets for which the seats in question are of a lower ticketing category than advertised or are in entirely different stadium location from each other;
• Are delivered too late;
• Result in security breaches (such as, for example, breaches of policies intended to separate rival fans)

FIFA also urges fans to be aware that their involvement in the purchase or use of such tickets may result in civil or criminal prosecutions. Ultimately, FIFA remains committed to the protection of the interests of all fans across the world.

If at any stage you are in any doubt as to the legitimacy of any alleged source of match tickets, please contact MATCH Enforcement at enforcement@match-ag.com before making any purchases. (The enforcement email address will only respond to inquiries regarding unauthorized ticket resellers, and will not respond to any general customer services inquiries regarding legitimate tickets. For general customer service inquiries, please contact enquiries@2014ftc.com).
Advertising Activities

There is a common misconception that the venues of major sporting events such as the FIFA World Cup™ stadia are venues where the only acceptable clothing and products allowed are those of the events’ sponsors. This is not the case. Spectators attending FIFA World Cup™ matches are free to wear the clothing of their choice and we very much encourage fans to wear their national teams’ jerseys.

The only time when choice of clothing or products may become an issue is if a third party non-sponsor is trying to exploit fans by using them as tools in an ambush marketing campaign. FIFA and the LOC would like to inform fans about such activity to ensure that they do not run into any problems which could hamper their enjoyment of their experience.

Ticket holders should be careful not to be targeted by non-sponsor companies who would like to create a commerce association between the 2014 FIFA World Cup Brazil™ and themselves. For example, fans may not bring in any non-sponsor branded fan gifts such as hats or flags into the stadia since such items are not allowed to enter under the General Terms and Conditions of Tournament tickets.

Stewards at the stadia gates are trained to recognise such products and will refuse entry to fans unless they voluntarily dispose of such branded gifts in the rubbish bins that will be provided at all stadia gates.
This also extends to promotional or commercial materials, including but not limited to banners, flags, signs, symbols and leaflets, or any kind of promotional or commercial objects, material and clothing. We therefore kindly ask ticket holders to not collaborate with non-sponsor companies as they are simply exploiting fans’ enthusiasm for their own commercial gain.

Obviously we do not intend to curb the fans’ enthusiasm and we encourage the fans to show their excitement and patriotism by wearing fancy dress. However, if the intention behind a particular outfit is to generate promotional exposure for a non-sponsor company, we are not in a position to tolerate this.

Inside the stadia on Match days, Ticket Holders are strictly prohibited from using, wearing, possessing or holding promotional or commercial objects and materials. All such items may be removed or confiscated by the FIFA World Cup Authorities without any compensation payable to the ticket holder.

Ticket Holders are also prohibited from handing out pamphlets or information relating to, or in any way promoting or drawing attention to, any business, cause, charity or concern, whether commercial or not, in the Stadium, unless expressly authorised by FIFA in writing.
